

GUIDELINES FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF NATIONAL APPRENTICESHIP PROMOTION SCHEME

1. BACKGROUND

1.1 The Apprentices Act, 1961 was enacted with the objective of regulating the program of training of apprentices in the industry by utilizing the facilities available therein for imparting on-the-job training. Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship is the administrative ministry responsible for implementation of the Act.

1.2 The National Policy of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship 2015, launched by the Hon'ble Prime Minister on 15th July, 2015, focuses on apprenticeship as one of the key program for creating skilled manpower in India. The policy proposes to pro-actively work with industry including MSME sector to facilitate a tenfold increase in apprenticeship opportunities in the country by 2020.

1.3 Apprenticeship training is one of the most efficient ways to develop skilled manpower for industry by using training facilities available in the establishments without putting any extra burden on exchequer to set up training infrastructure. Persons after undergoing apprenticeship training can easily adapt to industrial environment at the time of regular employment. The other advantages of apprenticeship training are as follows:

- It is one of the most important schemes in terms of quality of training, experiential learning and the enhanced employability that it provides.
- It is the most promising skills delivery vehicle in the industrial/training ecosystem of the country as it provides for a structured and rigorous training programme which helps apprentices become skilled.
- It gives apprentices a real chance to put skills into practice and helps them to gain confidence in a working environment.

1.4 Apprenticeship Training consists of Basic Training and On-the-Job-Training/Practical Training at workplace in the industry. The basic training is an essential component of apprenticeship training for those who have not undergone any institutional training/skill training before taking up on-the-job-training/practical training. It accounts for 20-30% of overall duration of Apprenticeship Training. Apart from basic training, there is a component of on-the-job training which is performed in the establishments and undertaken by the establishment itself.

1.5. The Apprentices Act, 1961 makes it obligatory for employers to engage apprentices in designated trades and in optional trades. Directorate General of Training (DGT) under Ministry of Skill Development & Entrepreneurship monitors the implementation of the scheme of apprenticeship training. For CPSUs and establishment operating business in 4 or more States, it is done through six Regional Directorates of Apprenticeship Training. State Apprenticeship Advisers monitor the Scheme in State Government Undertakings and Private Establishments.

1.6 There are five categories of apprentices namely; trade apprentices, graduate apprentices, technician apprentices, technician(vocational) apprentices and optional trade apprentices.

2.0 Current status

2.1 Only 2.30 lakh trade apprentices are undergoing apprenticeship training in 30,165 establishments throughout the country under the Apprentices Act, 1961 which is miniscule as compared to the total number of establishments in the country. Out of these, 36,000 apprentices are in Central Public Sector Undertakings/Central Government and 1.94 lakh apprentices are in State Public Sector Undertaking/State Government Departments and Private Sector

3.0. Amendments in the Apprentices Act, 1961

3.1 The government has brought comprehensive amendments in the Act in December 2014 to make it more attractive for both industry and youth. Major changes introduced in the amendment are: replacing the outdated system of trade wise and unit wise regulation of apprentices with a band of 2.5% to 10% of the total workforce (including contractual workers), introduction of optional trades, removing stringent clauses like imprisonment & allowing industries to out-source basic training.

4.0 Potential available for Apprenticeship Training

4.1 There are a large number of establishments where training facilities are available but these facilities have not be utilized because such establishments express their inability to come under the Act citing lack of support from Government. Compared to the size and rate of growth of economy of India, the performance of Apprenticeship Training is not satisfactory and a large number of training facilities available in the industry are going unutilized depriving unemployed youth to avail the benefits of Apprenticeship Training.

4.2 There are about 50 lakh employees in Central Public Sector Undertaking, Central Government and Banking Sector. If these establishment engage apprentices even up to the mandatory minimum limit of 2.5% of the total manpower strength, the number could reach 1,25,000. According to the fifth economic census, there are 20,62,124 MSMEs having 6 or more workers. If each establishment engages even one apprentice, the number could be 20 lakh. Therefore, there is a huge potential in apprenticeship training which remains untapped.

5.0 Incentivizing Employers

5.1 Apprenticeship training provides for an industry-led, practice-oriented, effective and efficient mode of formal training and as such strengthening of apprenticeship training needs to be given a high priority.

5.2 Although On-the-Job-Training/Practical Training facilities are available with the employers but they are not able to engage apprentices as they do not have basic training facilities. Employers are not interested to outsource apprentices for basic training to other training providers, as they have to bear the basic training cost to be paid to the basic training providers and the stipend payable to apprentices during the basic training period.

5.3 Keeping in view the importance of Apprenticeship Training, the scheme for “Promoting Apprenticeship Training” was placed before the Cabinet for its approval and the Cabinet approved “National Apprenticeship Promotion Scheme”.

6.0 National Apprenticeship Promotion Scheme

The scheme is for

- (i) Sharing of 25% of prescribed stipend subject to a maximum of Rs. 1500/- per month per apprentice to all apprentices with the employers.
- (ii) Sharing of cost of basic training with Basic Training Providers (BTP).

6.1 Objective of the Scheme

The main objective of the scheme is to promote apprenticeship training and to increase the engagement of apprentices from present 2.3 lakh to 50 lakh cumulatively by 2020.

6.2 Components of the Scheme

The scheme has the following two components:

- 6.2.1 Sharing of 25% of prescribed stipend subject to a maximum of Rs. 1500/- per month per apprentice with the employers. The stipend support would not be given during the basic training period for fresher apprentices.
- 6.2.2 Sharing of basic training cost in respect of apprentices who come directly to apprenticeship training without any formal trade training. Basic training cost will be limited to Rs. 7500/- for a maximum of 500 hours/3 months.

6.3 Scope of the Scheme

This scheme will cover all categories of apprentices except the Graduate, Technician and Technician (Vocational) apprentices which are covered by the scheme administered by Ministry of Human Resource Development

6.4 Scheme Targets

Target under the scheme shall be 5 lakh apprentices in 2016-17, 10 lakh apprentices in 2017-18, 15 lakh apprentices in 2018-2019 and 20 lakh apprentices in 2019-20. The engagement of fresher apprentices shall be 20% of total annual target.

6.5 Implementing Agencies

6.5.1 Regional Directorates of Apprenticeship Training (RDATs) under the control of Directorate General of Training will act as implementing agencies in their regions for Central Public Sector Undertaking and establishments operating their business in 4 or more States.

6.5.2 State Apprenticeship Advisers will act as implementing agencies for state public sector and private establishments under their jurisdiction.

6.6. Key features

6.6.1 Wider options for the apprentices- integration with other schemes

Courses under PMKVY/MES will be linked with apprenticeship training. These courses will be given the status of optional trades & the relevant practical content for On-the-Job training will be added by SSC/NCVT as the case may be. The total duration of On-the-Job/Practical training for these courses will be of one year (excluding the period of basic training)

6.6.2 Ease of Administering through technology

6.6.3 Involvement of States/UTs

As per the Apprentices Act, monitoring of apprenticeship training in State Public Sector Undertakings and Private Sector Establishments is done by the respective State Governments. Generally, it has been seen that State Governments do not play an active role in promoting apprenticeship training so it has been decided to involve the states in implementing the new scheme. State Apprenticeship Council will be entrusted to setup an Apprenticeship Cell in each State and their responsibilities will include monitoring the implementation of this scheme.

6.6.4 Promoters and facilitators for Apprenticeship Training

(i) Facilitators/Promoters in the system are essential for mobilizing the apprentices. Since this scheme involves multiple stakeholders, the role of facilitators becomes important. Facilitators can also create awareness among the employers which is generally lacking in our country. The facilitators can also play a major role in coordinating between basic training providers and the employers for on-the-job training.

7.0. Communication campaign

(i) Workshop/Seminars

Meetings/Workshops will be organized with all stakeholders including CII, FICCI, ASSOCHAM, Sectoral Associations and local industry chambers/clusters.

(ii) Publicity & advertisements using both print and electronic media.

(iii) Brand Ambassadors
